Colloquy Arises Over an Appropriation for the New Soldiers' Home

at Danville, Where Mr.

Cannon Lives.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 .- The house today passed an urgent deficiency bill carrying $1,741,843. One of the twems, authorizing a further expenditure of $520,000 for the soldiers' home at Danville, Ill., for which $150,000 was appropriated in the last sundries bill, was used by Mr. DeArmond (dem., Mo.) as a basis for a bitter personal attack upon

Chairman Cannon, whose home is at Danville. There was a lively debate over the provision in the bill requiring the owners of buildon hereafter to pay the cost of transporting bullion from assay offices to the mints. Mr Bell (pop., Colo.) argued that if the govern ment declined to pay the cost of transporting the gold would go to foreign mints. It was he said, another blow aimed at the western miner. There was no reason why the government had not the same interest in securing the gold production of the country now that it had in the past. Mr. Shafroth (sil. cep., Colo.) argued against the provise. Not content with the gold standard, he said, this was an attempt to di ther appreciate its power and value.

Mr. Cannon pointed out that if the law was continued until assay offices were established on the Yukon the government would have to the mint price for gold in the Klondil and then pay the cost of and assume all risks incident to transporting it to the San Francisco or Philadelphia mint. This law was a bounty on gold mining. Why should it exist? protested against trying to complicate it with the financial question.

SHOULD INVITE GOLD. Mr. McRae (dem., Ark.) argued that gold discoveries in the Yuken furnished the best reason why the existing law should not be discontinued. The government should of fer every inducement to miners to bring the gold to Its miets.

Mr. Sayers (dem., Tex.) supported the proposed change in the government policy. There was no more reason, he said, why the government should give a bounty to the gold miners than to the cotton or wheat growers. No other country, he said, paid the freight on buillon. Mr. Livingston (dem., Ga.) denied that this proposition in any way affected the financial

Mr. Kelley (pop. S. D.), Mr. Dockery (dem., Mo.) and Mr. Bland (dem., Mo.) opposed the proviso. The latter in his remarks said the present law was a part of the resumption act It was intended to encourage and facilitate gold production and coupled with it was the law providing for the sale of bonds to provide gold. The encouragement of gold oduction was the cheaper and better way procure gold. The new proviso was in the interest of bond sales.

After some further remarks by Messrs. Simpson (pop., Kan.) and Underwood (dem. Ala.) against the provise, Mr. Bell's motion to strike out was defeated 125 to 11. Mr. DeArmond moved to strike out the paragraph appropriating $100,000 for the con struction of barracks at the Soldiers' home at Danville, Ill. He called attention to the fact that when the sundry civil bill was passed at the last session carrying $150,000 for the establishment of the Danville home, it was then said that was all the money which DEARMOND IS CAUSTIC.

Mr. Cannon called attention to the fact that this was the third time Mr. DeArmond had attacked him on the score of this soldiers' home. He explained that the last bers of the democratic congressional committee on military affairs had reported tee have now been elected except the Ten unanimously on establishing a new home at Danville. There was great necessity for it as 18,000 veterans were sleeping in corri dors, cellars and attics. The appropriation committed after an exhaustive investigation on the merits of the question, had reported the appropriation contained in the last sun-

Mr. Cannon asserted that there were enough old soldiers inmates of poor houses to fill the new home. Mr. Cannon said this was the only time any intimation had ever been made tha he had a personal interest in an appropria ATTACKS CANNON'S METHODS.

"Mr. Cannon can make no defense," as serted Mr DeArmond. "He abused his posi-tion, which should have been used for the public good, instead of for the good of the people of Danville who are interested in town lots. And when such things are not allowed to go uncommented upon," con-tinued Mr. DeArmond, "he terms criticism thued Mr. DeArmond, "he terms criticism scolding. He refers to his record. Does he regret his lost opportunities? (Laughter.) He appeals to his friends who know him to testify to his singleness of purpose and his patriotism, when by methods he dare not and cannot defend he gets a soldiers' home located at his home, and now asks for half a million more. I am willing to be a scold a million more. I am willing to be a scold denouncing such things constitute a

Mr. Cannon replied briefly, with a good deal of feeling, but in good temper. He as-serted that this appropriation was justified from every standpoint of the public serv-ice. Messrs. Henderson (rep., Ia.) and W. A Stone (rep., Pa.) spoke briefly of the testi-mony showing the necessity for a new sol-diers' home in the Mississippi valley and the propriety of locating it at Danville.
Mr. DeArmond's motion was then defeated without division.

On motion, Mr. Bell's (pop. Colo.) an amendment was adopted providing for the survey and establishment of the eastern boundary line of the Southern Ute reservaline of the Southern Ute reservation in Colorado. Without further amendment the bill was Charles W. Russell, Assistant United States Attorney, Says the Frightful Condition Must Be Seen to Be Believed.

WASHINGTON, Jam 12 .- Hon, Charles W. Russell, assistant United States attorney in the Department of Justice, returned from Cuba yesterday, where he has spent two weeks investigating the conditions prevailing on the island. Mr. Russell said:

"I am very glad to be interviewed on the subject of Cuba, because I believe it to be a American people realize the distress which exists there. Much has been written on the subject, but judging others by myself, I feel quite sure that because we do not commit, or have in our history committed, such atrocities as Spain is committing on that the representations as biased by the preconceived opinions of newspapers, or greatly exaggerated.

"I spent two weeks in Cuba, visited Havana, went south to Jaruco, southeast to Guines, northeast to Matanzas, eastward about 200 miles through the middle of the country to Domingo, Santa Clara and Sagua la Grande. I visited Madriano, a short distance west of Havana, and saw along the road thirty or forty towns or stations. It Havana I visited the Fossos, the hospita rison, where I talked with the father of Vangella Cosslo y Cisneros, and a place called the Jacobus. I found reconcentrados at all of these places, and begging everywhere about the streets of Havana. "The spectacle at the Posscs and Jacobu ise of women and children emaclated to skeletons and suffering from diseases pro duced by starvation was sickening. In Sagua I saw some sick and emaciated little girls in a hospital, started three days before, and saw a crowd of reconcentrados getting a small allowance of food doled ou FOUR LEFT OUT OF ELEVEN.

"In an old sugar warehouse I saw stationed bround the inside wall the remnants of twenty or thirty Cuban families. In one ease the remnant was two children of 7 or years. In another case I talked to the peop in broken Spanish. There were four indi-viduals, a mother, a girl of 14, and two quite small girls. The smallest was then suffering from malarial fever. The next had the sign on her hands with which I had become family ar, of having had the beri beri. These four were all that the order of concentration had eft alive of eleven. At San Demingo, where two railroads join the depot was crowded with women and chi

dren, one of the latter, as I remember, being swollen with the beri beri, begging in the ost earnest way of passengers.
"San Domingo is little more than a raiload station, but at present it has a consid rable population living in the cabins thatched with the tops of royal palm trees capture of the survivors of the other reconcentrados. The huts are ranged close together in a little lump, and the concentrado order required and apparently still requires, these people to live within a circle of small block house ommonly dignified in the dispatches by the name of forts. Of course, they had no o do, no soil to till, no seed to plant, and only begging to live on.

"I do not know the exact measure of the dead line circle drawn around them, but there was certainly nothing within it on which a human being could subsist, also, certainly, if any order had permitted them to go a short distance fur ther out, they had not gone and were no going. Practically, they are prisoners, BEGGARS INVADE THE CARS.

"At every one of the numerous stopping places along the road a similar collection of huts could be seen and at most of them beggars, often nice-looking women and children, invaded the cars. Between the stations, although I traveled by daylight, as the trains do not run at night, and wgs as observing as possible, I saw no signs of the reconcentracos going away from the forts. If they had gone it takes eed instruments, land and three or four months to raise the vegetables which could be produced, and nowhere away from the block houses was there any sign of vege tables growing. Near the larger towns the circle of concentration seemed to be somewhat larger and some planting of vegetables, tobacco and rice seemed to be going on. At this a very few persons, possibly some of them reconcentrades, found employment.

'There was no indication of a cersation of hostilities by the insurgents. If they do not voluntarily cease, their tactics are no such that Spain can conquer them before the reconcentrates will have the finishing stroke, but the speedy termination of the war would not save many of them. What they need is instant pecuniary assistance to he extent of $20,000 a day distributed by

"Whether congress should make an ap propriation as in the care of San Domingo refugees and other cases, is not for me to say, but I beg the charitable people to be the statements of fact which I have made and to realize what they mean."

DOUBLE STANDARD IS IMPRACTICABLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 .- The monetary mmission was given a hearing today by he house committee on banking and currency on the commission's bill proposing a omprehensive revision of the currency. Ex. Senator Edmunds of Vermont, chairman of the commission, headed the delegation and with him were ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild of New York, J. W. Fries of North Carolina (representing the gold democratic sentiment of the south , T. J. Bush of Alabama and Judge R. S. Tyler of Indiana (rep. eventing the middle west.) Secretary Gage was also present, accompanied by the so-Heltor of the treasury. The hearing attracted much laterest, a number of members of the house, accompanied by women, being present. Mr. Edmunds was the first speaker. He establishing a stable currency was first to know what the spindard of value in this country is and is to be. On this there were many divergent views among financial au-thorities. Many believed, and he was one of these, that it was impossible to have more than one standard of values. If this be true, then the question is, what is the best standard? The experience of the world, Mr. Ed-munds said, was that the best standard was the one subject to least change, one to which all other values most readily adjusted themselves; one which will be the same when the transaction closes as it was when it opened. The commission felt that such a thing as a double standard had never existed in the world through natural operations. There had been double standards established by law, but never in fact. When it came to an actual standard, there could be but one EXPERIENCE OF THE WORLD.

Mr. Edmunds referred to the experience of the great nations of the world, "all show-ing," he said, "that a single standard meant tability and safety, while legal attempts a louble standards mount disaster and panio From this universal experience," to the conclusion that the first prisciple or which to base a currency was to have one standard, and that gold is the best standard ecause it is the most stable of all standards of value. Feeling that one standard was es sential and that gold was the best of these the commission was brought to the gold standard as its first proposition. That, however, did not exclude the use of silver or any other metal to the largest extent that they could be maintained on an equality with the one fixed and invariable standard of gold That conclusion was reached," Mr. Edmund political considerations, but solely from th inviction of those commissioners represent ng the various sections of the country. Mr. Edmunds then took up the proposition of the commission's bill proposing a retire ment of United States notes, explaining and report. He closed with a strong appeal for Representative Cox (dem., Tenn.) pro pounded a series of questions intended to bring out that the effect of the bill would be to convert all debts, public and private, into gold obligations. NOT APPLICABLE TO CITIZENS Mr. Edmunds answered that it would con vert every government obligation except i few of minor form, into gold obligations, and stated broadly the effect would be to make all United States obligations payable in gold But as to private obligations between citi-zens, Mr. Edmunds answered emphatically in the negative.

Mr. Walker asked if the bill was designed to change the legal tender quality of the standard silver dollar. Mr. Edmunds answered that it would not. The only purpose was to give the silver dollar distinct reference to one fixed standard without making a ratio. Existing conditions were not changed, but doubts were removed

Mr. Walker suggested the question of ex-ediency in carrying so large a question before the house of representatives, with 25 nembers ready for months of debate.

Mr. Edmunds replied that the commission had reported what it deemed to be essentia and right to a proper adjustment of the currency and it desired to stick to that righ

Mr. Ed munds did not believe the contraction would occur, or that bank reserves would be in juriously affected by having the supply o greenbacks limited and in part displaced by the demand for gold. Mr. Newlands asked if the world had a sufficiency of gold. "Not sufficiency of gold or of virtue," answered Mr. Edmunds, "and that is why we are struggling for both. It was this that led to the rush to Klondike."

MUSCOGEE, I. T., Jan. 12.—Marshal Bennett left today with his deputy, Budd Ledbetter, for the scene of the Indian trouble. A troop of cavalry is now on the way to the Seminole notion and will arrive there some time today. Marshal Bennett is well liked by the Seminoles, who unanimously endorsed him in council for marshal of the northern district of the Indian Territory and he has had numerous personal felegrams from persons in the Seminole nation asking him to come at once On account of his popularity with the Semiand return in peace to their homes, and no truding.

n the nation, Information received here from Oklahoma to the effect that 100 armed citizens have started from that place for Earlaboro on a special train to head off the bloodthirsty eminoles and prevent a repetition of the the Seminoles. Nothing more definite than last night's statement that 150 Indians had started on the warpoth from Eoriboro, that they were killing all the whites whom they met and that the whites were arming and said: "The fundamental principle which the burrying their families out of the country, commission had felt was to be considered in has been received. Although many stories has been received. Although many stories ommended by physicians, because it is so previously been circulated from the territory, so persistent have been the rumors that far as known the only positive cure for piles except a surgical operation, the Seminoles would averge the burning of piles except a surgical operation, two of their number that further and authe of their number that further and authentic reports are awaited with fear and decad. Indian Territory is settled principally by whites from this part of the country, and the anxiety of their friends and relatives here may easily be imagined.
